With the school year underway, we can all breathe a sigh of relief as we get back to familiar school time routines. My family and I had a great summer playing and enjoying time together. However, we were ready to get back to the comfort that accompanies the school year, including morning drop-off, afterschool activities, homework time and bedtime rituals.

In South Salt Lake, we are fortunate to have local schools filled with committed educators working to provide sound education for all our youth. Additionally, South Salt Lake’s robust afterschool programs, offered through Promise SSL, provide kids of all ages the opportunity for ongoing educational support and experiences outside of the classroom.

Our programs have always had offerings for kids of all ages. However, we have found that keeping our teens engaged in afterschool programs takes some additional effort. We saw value in providing ongoing opportunities that would appeal to our teenage population. I am thrilled to welcome the addition of new afterschool activities for our teens: the new Teen Tech Center located at the Columbus Community Center.

The Teen Tech Center was made possible through a partnership with Best Buy. As a leading retailer of technology products, services, and solutions, Best Buy is committed to working with communities to build brighter futures through technology, training and mentorship.

The new center will give SSL teens access to a variety of creative and technological tools that will help stimulate their creative juices. From a recording and editing studio to 3-D printing projects to superimposing images on a green-screen, the Tech Center offers a wide variety of equipment that will help prepare our teens for the careers of tomorrow through hands-on learning experiences. I truly believe the learning afforded by the tools at the Center will help teens build the skills they need to pursue their dreams.

As a City, we continue to seek out opportunities to partner with organizations that can bring value to our residents, especially the youth in our community. We know that investing in people will help bring about a better future for all our residents. I encourage you to stop by the Columbus Center and check out the new Teen Tech Center; it’s a pretty cool place.

Quoting President Abraham Lincoln, “The best way to predict your future is to create it.” Our new Teen Tech Center is just the place for our teens to create their future!
City Council Corner – Art an Economic Driver

By Sharla Bynum, City Council District 3

As a veteran educator, I have long recognized the value of incorporating art in the learning process. Unleashing kids’ creative talent helps increase self-confidence and stimulates excitement for learning. My experience on the city council brought realization that art also plays a vital role in our community, along with the added benefit of economic development. South Salt Lake is a shining example of a community reaping the benefits that come from an art-centric focus.

Over the past few years, South Salt Lake has taken deliberate action to build the Creative Industry Zone located in the heart of our downtown. This revitalized, walkable and communal area has attracted a variety of creative businesses including microbreweries, distilleries, a recording studio, and artist studios. These new businesses stimulate our local economy, bring a fun vibe to the neighborhood, and engage the public in art-based experiences like the upcoming Craftober Fest.

Craftober Fest is a spin on a traditional Octoberfest, combining art and local craft-based businesses. Craftober Fest 2019 is Saturday, October 5, from 1–5 p.m., in the heart of SSL’s Creative Industry Zone, 2511 S. West Temple. This year’s event will include live music, interactive art, food trucks, kid’s activities, and a live podcast.

I hope you will mark your calendar and join me at Craftober Fest on October 5th to explore the innovative businesses in our Creative Industry Zone, take in the local art scene, and be a part of our vibrant local community. For more information, visit www.sslarts.org.

Why is October Fire Prevention Month?

Fire prevention month raises awareness about fire safety and home safety to help ensure your homes and families are prepared in case of an emergency. Fire prevention month has roots that date back to The Great Chicago Fire of 1871. This devastating fire killed more than 250 people and left more than 100,000 homeless. The deadly fire reportedly started on October 8, and as the fire expanded and advanced through the town panic ensued, people realized that there was no place for guaranteed safety. People became fearful and began to flee for their lives creating havoc in the streets and impeding everyone’s safe escape.

This year’s theme is “Not Every Hero Wears a Cape. Plan and Practice Your Escape!” In a typical house fire you could have as little as 2-minutes to escape when the smoke alarms go off. Plan ahead, take the small but important actions to keep you and your family safe by making a home escape plan. Draw a map of the layout of your home, plan your exit routes, pick a meeting place where everyone will meet upon exiting, and PRACTICE!

Contact your local fire department if you need assistance. Together we can keep families, our community and South Salt Lake safe.

Keeping our Neighborhoods Safe

The Men’s Homeless Resource Center is nearing completion. The South Salt Lake Police Department has spent the past two years preparing for the opening of the new center.

The City of South Salt Lake was instrumental in the passing of legislation to fund additional police officers and firefighters. Without this legislation, the Police Department wouldn’t be able to keep up with the increased calls for service. It is important to note how critical this funding is to the City and you as residents and business owners. Without this funding, the cost burden of the resource center would fall upon our community.

Since the location announcement of the resource center in South Salt Lake, the City has seen a noticeable increase of homeless individuals in the City. Police calls for service have significantly increased and are continuing to rise as the resource center approaches completion. These calls for service will continue to increase following the center opening.

The South Salt Lake Police Department is constantly receiving complaints of illegal camping, trespassing, loitering and panhandling. Our residents and business owners are seeing this increase and are reporting illegal activity appropriately.

The South Salt Lake Police Department has spent the past several months hiring new officers just to keep up with increased calls for service. We are using State funding to hire the additional 12 officers awarded to the City of South Salt Lake and are on track to have all 12 hired before the opening of the homeless resource center. We have assigned four officers to our Community Resource Unit as Homeless Resource Officers. We anticipate increasing the team to six when the center opens. The specialized HRO Team is focused directly on the increased homeless population in our City. They work closely with Salt Lake County to identify those in need of assistance. The remaining eight officers are assigned to patrol shifts and they work closely with the HRO Team to provide 24-hour enforcement as needed.

The landscape of our City is changing and it will include the presence of homeless individuals. As that happens, the South Salt Lake Police Department will work hard to identify those in need of assistance and direct them to the appropriate resources. We will also work equally as hard on enforcement of illegal activity, created by those who are resistant to resources.

Of Mayor Cherie Wood’s Promises, number two is, “Every resident has a safe, clean home and neighborhood”. The South Salt Lake Police Department, with Mayor Wood’s continued support, will ensure this promise is kept.

If you have any questions or concerns concerning the Homeless Resource Center, please reach out to my office directly at 801-412-3609. If you are experiencing a problem with illegal camping on your property or you would like to report a non-emergency complaint, please call 801-840-4000.

Afterschool Alliance Ambassador

Promise South Salt Lake Coordinator, Kaylee Milliner, has been accepted to the Afterschool Alliance’s Afterschool Ambassador Program. This program identifies afterschool providers and advocates of special achievement and helps them raise their voices in support of afterschool.

Each year, the Alliance selects 12 to 20 Ambassadors from around the country to provide training, technical support, and modest funding for their Ambassadorial activities. Participants in the program are selected from some of most effective afterschool programs and advocacy organizations in the nation and Ambassadors work every day to help keep kids safe, inspire children to learn, and help working families. Kaylee’s work in the Promise South Salt Lake program at Hser Ner Moo provides her firsthand knowledge of the importance of safe places for youth to learn and play, and the large role afterschool plays in a young person’s life. Through this program, Kaylee will work with other local providers, advocates, business and community leaders to promote afterschool and reaching out to policy makers and the media on afterschool strengths and needed supports.

We are thrilled to have Kaylee join the Afterschool Alliance’s Afterschool Ambassador Program for the 2019-2020 school year. We know she will represent Promise, the City of South Salt Lake and the State of Utah to promote afterschool for all!

YCC Angel Tree

The South Salt Lake Youth City Council would like to thank everyone in advance for their support.
